These funds consist of financial instruments such as investments, cash, insurance receivables, tax refunds, social security payments and rights to land and other assets. Take a look at some unclaimed money reviews and find out how long it takes to get the unclaimed property and it is your legitimate discovery. Each state has a different latency period that varies depending on the type of property. This is not common, but most people have over $100 in forgotten assets. We had that in mind when we created our function to find and reclaim lost money. Here's why people lose the harm of their money: They relocate without informing the previous owner and lose their deposit A company closes, and they can't claim their pensions and other funds People can't cash the remaining paychecks from previous jobs Customers change their phone numbers and addresses without informing the owners People forget about their life insurance or are not aware of being someone's beneficiary so they will claim their money faster with DoNotPay Finding lost assets can be a challenge, and many people decide not to start the process because of that. However, for a low flat fee, you can hire our expert services to finish the process for you. More than 65 million dollars of unclaimed money has been returned to its rightful owners over the past decade. After the latency period passes and the money holders report the unclaimed property to the state, it is considered abandoned. Why? Is there any money lost in New Hampshire?
